LABOR-MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE OF THE LEADERSHIP COUNCIL
SOUTHWESTERN ILLINOIS WELCOMES NEW MEMBERS

EDWARDSVILLE, ILL. Jan. 8, 2003... The Labor-Management Committee of the Leadership Council Southwestern Illinois today announced the addition of two new members. Mark Selby, of the International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers Local No. 1, and Angelo-Gene (A.G.) Monaco, of the Southern Illinois University Systems are the newest members of one of the longest, continuously running labor and management committees in the State of Illinois.

Mark Selby is a business agent and financial secretary for International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers Local No. 1. The International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers Union dates back to the late 1800's. The mission of the Association is to assist its membership in securing employment, to defend their rights, and advance their interests as working men and women; and by education and cooperation, raise them to that position in society to which they are justly entitled. There are now over 120 local unions and a membership in excess of 20,000.

A.G. Monaco is the director of labor relations for the Southern Illinois University (SIU) System, with labor responsibilities on both of SIU's campuses in Edwardsville and Carbondale, Ill. He also serves as director of human resources for Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, where he teaches Human Resource Management and Collective Bargaining. Monaco has served as a consultant on collective bargaining strategies with numerous non-profit and government entities and has served as an ethics trainer with several Police Departments including the New York City Police Department and the U.S. Capital Police Department.
